This blog is really fun but it takes a long time to write and then code it to get it on this format.

I have found that while this has been a lot of fun, I am writing less and coding and formatting pictures more and the text sometimes suffers!

Please "Like" and follow me on my new Face Book page that will have all the things you like about this page while allowing me to write more and deal with appearance issues and coding less!

Hope to see you there!

Stay tuned here as well for larger blogs and as always I read all comments posted to both pages!
